

*Wishing you health and happiness
this Holiday Season and prosperity in the New Year.*

In the midst of the holiday season, we just wanted to say "Thank You"! We've enjoyed working with you this year, and we celebrate all that you give to the communities in New York State.

All the best to you, your family, and your organization!

Ellen McHale, Lisa Overholser, and Laurie Longfield
The New York Folklore Society Staff

STAY CONNECTED:

The New York Folklore Society fosters the study, promotion, and continuation of the folk cultural expressions of New York's diverse communities through education, advocacy, support, and outreach.

A statewide organization, the New York Folklore Society is headquartered in Schenectady, New York.